Feedback Analysis and Action Taken Report (2020-2021)

Dt: 12-07-2021

Feedback on curriculum from students, faculty, alumni and employers was collected by conducting online surveys and the reports are generated. Based on the reports the analysis made and the actions taken are given below.

I. Analysis

1. Feedback from Students

Students have expressed positive feedback regarding the curriculum's practical relevance and the accessibility of faculty. However, they emphasised the need for increased extracurricular activities and better industry exposure to adequately prepare for professional challenges.

2. Feedback from Faculty

Faculty members have expressed appreciation for the institutional support provided for their professional growth and research endeavours but pointed out the need for updated resources and professional development to align with rapidly advancing industry trends.

3. Feedback from Alumni

Alumni have provided valuable feedback regarding the relevance of their academic experiences to their current careers. While many alumni have expressed satisfaction with the foundational knowledge and theoretical concepts acquired during their time at the institution, they emphasised the importance of incorporating more practical and industry-specific content into the curriculum.

Alumni also suggested that more networking opportunities and interactions with industry professionals would help students better understand industry dynamics and expectations.

4. Feedback from Employers

Campus recruiters have praised graduates for their strong analytical skills and theoretical knowledge, but they also identified areas for improvement, such as practical skills, industry-specific knowledge, and essential soft skills like communication and teamwork.

II. Action Taken Report

In response to the feedback from students, faculty, alumni, and employers, the following actions have been implemented by the College Academic Committee to address areas of improvement and continue enhancing the MBA and MCA programs:

1. New clubs and extracurricular activities have been introduced to support holistic student development, alongside regular workshops and events aimed at engaging students beyond academics. Partnerships with industry leaders have been strengthened to provide students with meaningful internships, real-world projects, and opportunities to attend guest lectures from industry experts.
2. The institution has integrated state-of-the-art technology and teaching aids into classrooms and improved access to the latest research materials and tools. Regular training sessions and workshops shall be planned to help faculty stay current with new teaching methodologies and industry developments. It is also decided to promote cross-departmental collaborations, encouraging faculty to engage in joint research projects and promote a more interdisciplinary academic environment.
3. The institution has integrated more practical applications and industry-relevant projects into the curriculum to better prepare students for the job market. To further enhance student employability, workshops and training sessions focusing on communication, teamwork, and problem-solving skills have been introduced. The institution has also strengthened its collaborations with industry partners, providing students with real-world exposure through internships and projects that enhance their practical skills and readiness for the workforce.
4. The institution has increased its efforts to organise alumni engagement events, guest lectures, and networking sessions, connecting students with alumni who are now established professionals. These interactions shall allow students to gain insights into career paths, industry trends, and the skills required for success.
